

“I attribute our success with the new standards, which mirror the Common Core, to our preparation with Greek and Latin word parts (using Building Vocabulary from Teacher Created Materials)! Each grade level on the State test had questions regarding word parts (roots and affixes). Every school in our district met the reading Annual Measurable Objectives (VERY hard to do).”

*-Dr. Nancy Guth
Supervisor of Literacy and Humanities
Stafford County Public Schools*